1. Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Always helped to facilitate good discussions and kept the class engaged through videos and images as well.
2. Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	I didn't learn what I thought I was going to learn in this course. It was mainly focused on how technology affects things, not on how I could improve my technological skills. It kind of seemed like the latter was the purpose at first, but then it didn't happen. Maybe advertising the course as what it really is going to be about would help, or adjusting it so there is more time focused on improving skills rather than just having discussion. There was also a lot of reading that kind of seemed pointless.
3. Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Rory did a pretty good job picking interesting content, especially towards the second half of the semester. Some of the readings towards the beginning were really long, dry, and hard to read. It's probably because of the subject matter though. His rubrics were super well designed too. Also, everything he makes himself to accompany readings/assignments is very visually pleasing. I loved his choice of assignments. The broad, multi-modal projects have been very fun to make and I learned a lot doing them.
4. Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	On top of being a good instructor, Rory is an all around good person as well. The things he was supposed to teach us were cool and useful, but what he taught us through that was remarkable. The social justice aspect of this class is the kind of underlying theme I'd like to see in most classrooms, and he did it super well. He was also very kind, understanding, and flexible. I would highly recommend this professor-- I already have to a few people.
5. Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Weaknesses: Unpatriotic, no understanding of economics, very opinionated Strengths: Always in a good mood
6. Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	I like that there are no traditional exams.
7. Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Rory is a super awesome professor and very thoughtful when it comes to his students! He wants participation in class and gives us many opportunities to do so!
8. Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	I barely knew anything about rhetoric before and now I am very well versed in the topic. I wanted more info about using technology in the classroom, BUT the description met the assignments and class discussion.
9. Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	The videos shown during class as well as examples from past students help align what is wanted for the project and what is required from us. Since I learn by making connections this helped me actually understand what I was learning.
10. Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	I think that there's way too much group collaboration within this class. For a person who doesn't like groups, it made me not want to come to class a lot of times.

11.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	I hate that i'm not able to see my grades in this class. I like to see my progress throughout the class.
12.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	I think Rory was a great teacher to be around. He made the class relatable and enjoyable. He was always light-hearted and humorous. I also really like how he incorporated us in deciding how we wanted to set up the grading for all major assignments to make sure we all felt fair and comfortable. I felt comfortable talking to him when necessary for my projects. I got my feedback fairly quickly after my first project, but it took weeks to hear anything back about my second project.
13.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	I think he did a good job meeting what he needed to for the sake of the class, but all of our grades remained private during the semester which was kind of difficult to work with. I am the kind of person, as well as much of the class, who likes to see our grades as we go so we know where we stand in the class. That was the only main issue I had with how his class works, but other than that, I think he did a good job hitting the targets he set and usually followed up with the readings he assigned in the next class meeting.
14.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	It was a little hard for me to see how some of the concepts connected.
15.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	I think students would be more engaged with class discussion if they were given shorter reading assignments.
16.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	I really like how we are up to date on topics and we do class discussions that way.
17.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	I do like how you grade materials and how you let us have extra time if we ask for it. Also the projects are broad which is both good and bad, good because then we can be creative but bad because some of us aren't good with thinking by ourselves without a guide to help us.
18.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	I enjoyed this class. At first, I was a little questionable when it came to the content, as it felt more like I was in a philosophy course than a digital literacy class, but I enjoyed how it came full-circle and gave a good back to the rest of the content in this course. I enjoyed how Rory used different platforms and really utilized the different types of media we could use in our projects (as well as outside the course). He was very timely when it came to grading projects, replying to emails, or solving problems.
19.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	The only suggesting I would have is maybe updating material. While some of the readings in this course are imperative to understanding an idea, the digital world is always changing, making me question if some of the readings are still relevant in today's world.
20.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Dr. Lee is very insightful, engaging, and makes class discussions very helpful and enjoyable. He does take some time getting grades back, but that is the only weakness I really see in his teaching.
21.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	The open-ended digital projects are very enjoyable, engaging, and necessitate critical thinking.
22.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Rory was incredibly respectful and understanding throughout the entire semester. He came to class prepared and was great at motivating students to get involved and actually care about the course material.
23.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	Rory welcomed student input on project guidelines and rubrics, which made our voices feel valued. This also made me actually care about the course more and get more involved during class.
