	Question	Response
1.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	This is both a strength and a weakness — I appreciate flexible deadlines, but stricter deadlines would have helped me to engage better with the course material.
2.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	I feel more confident with my teaching after taking this class.
3.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Nothing to add. Always engaging, always open to new interpretations.
4.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	This may not count but the reading was intense. I didn't mind this so much. However, it did feel like, because of the amount of reading, we weren't able to spend much time with each reading. A suggestion: maybe fewer readings with more time to analyze those. Maybe expect stronger commitment with fewer readings.
5.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	I really loved the laid back style and conversations from class. Dr. Lee made us feel like what we had to say was important, and treated us like peers.
6.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	This was actually my favorite class, which was surprising because it was the course I was the least excited to take at the beginning of the semester. I learned so much about pedagogy and composition, through some awesome readings, and by thinking through the assignments. Great class.

7.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Dr. Lee is extremely passionate about the content of the course AS WELL AS involving us in a critical discussion with him and the reading. He listens to what we need. His teaching style is one that I think works really effectively.
8.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	I wonder if the SRRs could be a little more structured. I know some classmates had a rough time completing them (which isn't on Dr. Lee at all). I wonder if the due dates for SRRs could be due at the class time that the reading is due? So students still have the choice in which SRRs they'd like to write, but they have a target deadline to work around (rather than the end of the semester for all). The amount of reading was a bit overwhelming. I wish I would have been able to spend more time with each of the readings so I could comprehend and get more out of it, but I didn't feel as though I had enough time to give the attention to each text as I would have liked.
9.	Please provide any additional written comments on the instructor's strengths and weaknesses.	Dr. Lee is supportive in the learning process by allowing space for honest discussion. It is clear that we are held to high expectations without an overbearing amount of pressure, which was a wonderful experience.
10.	Please provide any additional written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. You may comment on such things as the use of assignments, text(s), exercises, exams, etc.	The course is heavily theoretical. It was a nice space to contemplate our personal feelings about pedagogies. Sometimes I felt as though the readings could have been condensed to make it more easily applicable.
